Contact Me

At 22 years old, I am a second-year Bachelor of Computer Application (BCA) student passionate about full stack web development and entrepreneurship. Currently, I am honing my skills to launch a personal portfolio website that showcases my projects and aspirations. I also have a strong interest in fitness and aim to transform my physique while becoming a successful fitness influencer. In addition to my academic pursuits, I am preparing for a career in sales and credit card marketing, alongside my goal of starting a web design agency. My ambitions include creating a comprehensive course on trading and exploring the world of stock trading, all while balancing my responsibilities and dreams of supporting my family.
